SILC News

A publication of the Samutprakarn International Ladies Club

From the Presidents.....

This finds me writing this report during the mid-term school break. I have enjoyed sleep ins and nice relaxing times with Savanna and Regan. However, it feels like the lull before the storm – with so much to do soon!

We on the SILC committee, are gearing up towards our Annual General Meeting on FRIDAY, 28th APRIL, to be held with different format than in years gone by.

We have decided 'out with most of the formalities and in with the fun!' This year we will have a brunch at the Lakeside 2 clubhouse. Many of you had such a great time at Jacque's birthday there last year, we decided this venue would be fantastic for what we were planning for our AGM.

The Committee will provide a nice complimentary selection of food and wine. So please come along and enjoy seeing out the old and bringing in the new - Committee members that is!

Of course, we still have the year's business to review and a new Committee to elect. Soon you will receive via email the last year's business and financial statements. If you have changed address or email, please contact Karen Cohen (Membership) so Karen can keep you updated.

A pleasant surprise has been that we have already had a few Ladies show interest in some of the Committee positions. SILC is a fantastic way to meet friends in this area and have lots of fun along the way. Our Committee meetings are always interesting and the topics of discussion tend to quite often lead off what we are supposed to be discussing – making them more of an informal get together, than an actual meeting!

We do need a minimum of 40 members so our quorum is met – so please come along and enjoy a lovely brunch and support SILC just by your attendance.

We look forward to seeing you there and enjoying a special day together. Please check the Ad inside for further details.

Best wishes

Lorina & Annette

Strictly speaking, bunco is a game of dice, played in rounds. Players take turns rolling the dice and trying to accumulate as many points as possible to win each round. The game is played at tables of four in competing teams of two.

Now we're going to tell you the truth...
Bunco is a social event. It's a party. It's a blast!

January Reviews

On Tuesday, January 24th, 13 ladies ventured into the city for lunch at Crepes & Co. This was a few more than Lorraine had anticipated but that was not a problem. We just pulled up another table to accommodate everyone. There were old members, new members, in-laws and out-laws. A fun time was had by all. At one point, wine was even falling from the sky. (You will need to ask Maoliosa Denye about that) The conversations and dishes were great. Most of us left feeling very little guilt since we had all shared the tasty crepe desserts between three people. The calories don't count if it was just a taste test, right???

Hope to see you all again soon,

Julie Becker

COLOURS FEBRUARY COFFEE MORNING

For me I think this has been our best coffee morning so far. Joette the colour demonstrator had asked if we could have at least 20 people. Well Laura McCann's door was on fire people kept coming and coming and coming.....

Laura was our "model". The makeup had to come off and her hair to be covered. We are either spring, summer, autumn or winter colours. Joette would place 4 shades of, for example pink, around Laura's neck. 1 by 1 we were shown the colours and asked what we thought. 1 shade would show brilliant white teeth and glowing skin, another could turn her teeth and skin yellowish, another pale her skin, another would brighten her skin a little.

Laura, we had guessed would be an autumn person from her green eyes and light sallow skin. She in fact ended up being a winter like Ros, Carolyn, Vivian and Dewi.

Pam Manning was a spring, which is very rare. Lizzie West was an autumn which is quite rare.

Most of us with blue eyes are summer. Summer and winter are the most popular groups.

If you would like a private consultation with Joette it will cost 1,500 baht. It will last 1 hour. You will leave with a small wallet of cloth swatches that are your personal colours. She can take 3 ladies max at a time.

Joette's contact details are 018483419 or joette@berkompas.com

Thanks for such a great turnout ladies and for all the lovely food.

Thanks to Carolyn for telling me about Joette. Ladies if you see/hear of anything new and interesting please let me know and we can share with our SILC group.

The Unofficial Story!

Co-President Annette Gerlach

Another year with a lot of fun and challenges has passed. It is incredible how easy it is to be Co-President if you have great Co-President at your side. Thanks to Lorina Swindley who has done a great job. Working with this year's committee was again a good experience and I can only recommend taking on a job in our SILC-committee. Don't worry about if you think you can't do it. The Ladies in the committee are always there to help out and support.

Co-President Lorina Swindley

I have had heaps of fun as Co-President of SILC with my trusty partner and next door neighbour, Annette. Having been a Member of SILC for ages, I thought I should 'do my bit' on the Committee. I started with Vice President and organizing evening events, and it suited me fine being the night owl that I am! However, with the President's position shared, I can honestly say it has been a great learning experience and I have been so lucky to be involved with such a great group. We will be leaving for Beijing, hopefully at the end of the school year, so it will be a totally new experience being the 'new girl on the block' and I sincerely hope I find as many hospitable and friendly women in Beijing, that I have had the great fortune of meeting through SILC.

Best Wishes
Lorina

Membership Karen Cohen

My year in membership has been both interesting and fun. I have enjoyed welcoming new people and giving them lots of tips and information to help them settle into Thailand. I have also helped Jane Wise our editor in organising the name labels so that the Silc News Letter can go out to both members and sponsors of the club. I have had to keep all the records updated on the computer system and organised the new 2006 membership directory. I have really enjoyed getting to know the girls on the committee. I had a great time working with Irene and Denise on the committee for the Silc Dinner Dance.

Unfortunately due to other commitments this year I have to resign from this position. If you would like to meet new people and you don't have to know too much about the computer. You would be ideal to take on the membership role. It really doesn't take too much of your time.

Call me if you have any questions.

Secretary Lesley Browning

Last year on St Patrick's day, I was enjoying a SILC night out when the secretary approached me and asked if I would consider standing for secretary at the AGM. I had enjoyed SILC membership for about three years and to be honest, I could think of no good reason to say no - I didn't have a job, small children, I couldn't really claim to be too busy - and I had probably had a couple of drinks by that time of the evening. Therese sold the job to me by telling me it was the easiest job on the committee. One year on and I can say that Therese was right. Secretary is not a demanding role, it involves attending monthly committee meetings and taking minutes which I later circulate by e mail. SILC isn't like other committees, it is informal and fun. I am pretty hopeless with computers so the word processing takes me longer than it would most people, but it isn't a big job. In the weeks between agreeing to stand for secretary and the AGM I received a number of other approaches for much scarier roles - like president - and was pleased to be able to decline with the excellent excuse that I had already agreed to be secretary. So come on, volunteer for this easy but essential position.

Coffee mornings Irene Gray

Coffee mornings is great fun. I got to meet a whole new set of friends who don't go to the Seri Centre playgroup or the silc playgroup. Monthly you have to twist someone's arm to open their home for 2 hours for coffee. Silc provide all the crockery coffee and tea and the guests to the coffee morning bring the food. Then you have to "find" 10 interesting speakers to come and talk to our group! I found people came to me and said I would like to come and talk at the coffee morning or other members of the committee gave me contact details! Voila!

Newsletter Editor Jane Wise

When Terry O'Donnell-Parsons mentioned to me that SILC was looking for a newsletter editor 2 years ago I dismissed it without a thought. However one evening sitting with my then 8 year old son and being told this, that and the other about Microsoft Publisher and how easy it was I decided to have a go.

Admittedly when I went round to Linda's house so she could explain the workings of the newsletter I was still rather nervous but looking back I have had a great time and learnt so much. I have only –to my knowledge—had 2 complaints in 2 years so I reckon that is not too bad. It is easier if you English is your first language as some of the write ups and Ads have to be amended but it does not involve writing any articles yourself just hassling others to send them to you!

SILC rules state that you can only do any one job for 2 years which I think is a great rule and stops us getting stuck in a rut, so therefore we need a new editor. If anyone fancies the job please give me a call I will be happy to answer any questions you have

Lunch Co-ordinator Lorraine Illing

Being Lunch Coordinator was fairly straight forward job however finding new and interesting venues was the biggest challenge of the job - especially in Samut Prakarn. There is a lot of scope for visiting new restaurants in Bangkok. Pot-Luck lunches were a good alternative when trying to organize a local lunch and SILC members seemed to enjoy these. The only other small difficulty was trying to guess how many ladies might show up for lunch and trying to book accordingly as not everybody RSVP's ! It was always Enjoyable meeting SILC members at the lunches, discovering new restaurants and of course the excuse to enjoy some wonderful food.

Discovering the Public Speaker in You A Workshop

*Sunday 19th March
10am to 4pm*

Whether you are presenting to a group of colleagues or customers at work or giving a speech at your friend's wedding, public speaking can be a very intimidating experience. Many of us have been led to believe public speaking and presenting is all about "polish" or "years of practice" or even that you "were born to be a good speaker". This workshop is designed to remove these myths about public speaking so you can discover your own natural style in a creative, realistic manner in order to become a much more confident speaker and presenter.

2,000 Baht/person; Includes: Tuition and lunch/coffee break
(group discounts available for 3 or more persons coming together. Call for details)

About the workshop presenter:

Bjorn Turmann has lived in Asia for over 13 years. He's a published author and filmmaker who has worked for some of the world's largest corporations in a variety of business development roles. He was once "absolutely terrified of public speaking" but through a number of methods discovered on his own and with coaching he managed to transform himself into a memorable, engaging speaker who has presented to audiences large and small in over 20 countries.

For more information please email Bjorn directly

The plot involves a total of nine lovers in ever-shifting romantic pairings. Shakespearean theatre, playfulness and dreams are all mingled together. A Midsummer Night's Dream is one of the most poetic of plays, full of comedy, magic and quotable passages. The course is meant for those who would like to learn more about Shakespeare and his plays.
